PURPOSE

I'm ANTHONY NOMOROSA.

A designer, developer, musician, and lover of stories. I live in the Washington D.C. metro area. For 2 years I have created, designed, and developed using Photoshop, Illustrator, and the Internet as my canvas.

I thrive being fixated for hours, listening to Wilco and Jay-Z, and letting ideas fill the screen. I pour my heart and soul into my work - both design and music - and I love to build clean, functional, and usable UI.

I would love to offer my skills if you are interested in a redesign or new design or your website, or logo design and branding/identity.
